"BUT WHAT SAYEST THOU?"

We have saved the soul of the man that killed.
We have turned to strive the thief.
We restored the pride of the man that lied.
And we gave him our belief.
But for her that fell we have fashioned hell.
With a faith all stern and
We have turned to strive the
It was so old; and no man has told
What our Lord wrote in the dust.

For the men who thieved, and
who killed, and lied—
Who have slain the woman's soul—
We have worked, and prayed,
and seen them made
All clean and all pure and
all whole.
But we drive her out with a
righteous shout
In our Pharisaic trust,
So the man goes free—but we did not see
What our Lord wrote in the
dust.
—By Wilbur Nesbit in "The Living Church"

JOIN THE PROCESSION

EVERY day that passes furnishes new evidence that John Montgomery will be the next mayor of Pendleton. He is being given hearty and enthusiastic support by men and women of all factions. He has the support of almost all who constitute the leadership in the city's business, professional and industrial life. This support is based on absolute confidence in his clean purposes, his sound judgment and his business ability. Mr. Montgomery's record is good and people who look to Pendleton's welfare desire that sort of a man in the mayor's chair. They do not want the mayoralty position dragged down by gutter politics, they want no humbuggery and no chances for a regime of lawlessness and graft in Pendleton. They believe in safety first and will observe that doctrine Dec. 6.

CHRISTMAS PREPAREDNESS

THERE is much to be said in favor of the preparedness policy with reference to Christmas. Early Yuletide preparations permit of careful judgment and intelligent giving. It means making your money go the maximum distance. It means salvation for store people and for those people who do not like to be deluged by having the holiday business thrust upon them all at one fell swoop.

to the path of Christmas preparedness that the following instructions have been sent forth:

"Mail parcels early. They may be marked: 'Do not open until Christmas.'"

"Prepay postage fully on all parcels."

"Address parcels fully and plainly."

"Pack articles carefully and wrap them securely, but do not seal them, as sealed parcels are subject to postage at the letter rate."

"Insure valuable parcels. 'Place name and address of sender on all matter.'"

If you wish to be an efficient Christmaser it will be well to give heed to Uncle Sam's admonitions.

TRADITION OPPOSES IT

ON the part of some republican newspapers there is talk just now of Hughes for the republican nomination for president. This talk has increased since Root was discredited through defeat of his proposed new constitution for New York.

The talk of Hughes is not based on love of the supreme justice but on the belief he could command votes. It is extremely doubtful though that Hughes will be a candidate, or consent in any way to the use of his name. His attitude has been that when a man goes on the supreme bench he "closes behind him the door on political ambition."

The best traditions of the supreme court are all against the course certain newspapers wish Hughes to take. Those traditions are such that a resignation from the bench will naturally precede the entrance of a member into active politics. If Justice Hughes resigns from the supreme court the world will know he is an active or receptive candidate for a presidential nomination. If he does not resign it will be an indication he wishes to be out of the running.

INDIA'S HOUR TO STRIKE

INDIA has heard so many times that the war is going to result in greater participation in their government by the governed that she is beginning to believe it. At the meeting of the legislative council at Simla, one of the members, Mohammed Shafi, introduced a resolution reciting that "India should in the future be represented in the Imperial Conference" at London and directing the secretary of state to bring the matter to the attention of the London authorities.

The fate of such proposals, and especially of those in England itself who might be inclined to favor them, has generally been to become a subject of ridicule. Kipling delighted to satirize the liberal members of parliament from Lower Tooting who, visiting India in top hat and frock coat "talked about the blessing of British rule and suggested as the one thing needful the establishment of a qualified electoral system and general bestowal of the franchise."

But the present Viceroy of India took the Shafi resolution seriously. Instead of being pigeon-holed, the plan will be the subject of representations in the proper quarter.

If peace is to bring political concessions for the Poles, for the liberals of Russia, for the inhabitants of the "unredeemed" portions of Italy, for Serbs separated from the larger masses of their brethren and under the rule of alien races, why should it not bring concessions for the exploited Indians?

India and the member from Lower Tooting will never have a better hour to strike.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

If the east is any more prosperous than the west then the easterners have nothing of which to complain; we do very well out here.

After the first of the year it will be John Montgomery, mayor of Pendleton.

Possibly the allies are out of gasoline in the Balkans.

The Pacific ocean has been on a spree.

Don't eat too much.

THIS MAY ENTERTAIN

THE LITTLE RED RIBBON.

I sing not of battles nor conquerors laden
With trophies their valor has won
In the alme; My song is the love of a shy little maiden
Who smiled upon me in the morning
Of life. I whispered my passion; though clumsily spoken
With tear-shining lashes she heeded my prayer;
With the ring of betrothal I begged
for a token—
The little red ribbon she wore in her hair.
Though now it is faded
I picture it ailed,
The way that it shimmered the
night on the stair,
And often I kiss it,
And think how I'd miss it—
The little red ribbon she wore in her hair.

The years have flown by and her locks have grown whiter;
I smile when she speaks of the gray in the gold;
I whisper to her that her glances are brighter,
Her dimples more witching than ever of old.
Our love-life has witnessed more laughing than weeping;
We chase with fond kisses the foot prints of care;
But my own little wife never dreams I am keeping
The little red ribbon she wore in her hair.

Though faded and crinkled,
And rumpled and wrinkled,
The bonnie, bright looping that glistened so fair,
Far down in my pocket
It lies, in a locket—
The little red ribbon she wore in her hair.

—Pearson's Weekly.

WORSE AND MORE OF IT.

A philanthropist lady visited an asylum not long ago and displayed great interest in the inmates. One old man particularly gained her compassion. "And how long have you been here, my man?" she inquired.

"Twelve years," was the answer.
"Do they treat you well?"
"Yes."
"Do they feed you well?"
"Yes."

After addressing a few more questions to him the visitor passed on. She noticed a smile broadening on the face of her attendant, and on asking the cause heard with consternation that the old man was none other than the medical superintendent. She hurried back to make apologies. How successful she was may be gathered from these words: "I am sorry doctor, I will never be governed by appearances again."

A DEVOUT ORIENTAL.

A member of the diplomatic corps at Washington tells a story of a Persian who came to this country on a special mission.

Among those who entertained him was a wealthy American, who invited the oriental to his country home. The morning of the guest's arrival the American visited him in his apartment, and was astonished to see him hopping about the floor in "the strangest way imaginable. The host ventured to ask the reason for this curious action. The Persian answered:

"You see, this carpet is green with pink roses here and there. Green is a sacred color with us, so I am obliged to hop from rose to rose. It is good exercise, but rather fatiguing."

HE SPOKE TOO HASTILY.

"That's a damned fine lookin' car o' yours, mister," said the old man with a chin whisker as he inspected Dubbleigh's motor standing in front of the Eagle House at Togus.

"You bet it is," said Dubbleigh. "I came over here from Watkins Terris this mornin' in just 35 minutes. Going some, eh?"

"Ya-as," said the old gentleman, striking his whiskers thoughtfully. "Kin ya prove it?"

"I have five witnesses in my guests," said Dubbleigh.

"Wa'al, I'll take yer word for it," said the stranger. "Jeg fork over $25 and we'll call it square. I'm justice of the Peace around here and it'll save time to settle this here violation right now."—Harper's Weekly.

INSTIGATOR OF "SLUSH FUND" INVESTIGATED

Dr. Joseph Goricar, former Austro-Hungarian consul general at San Francisco, who charged through the Providence Journal a few days ago that Austro-Hungarian consuls in this country are concerned in plots to violate this country's laws, and that a huge fund to back such plots is maintained by the German and Austrian governments.

The department of justice at Washington has turned over to the state department evidence that at least one foreign government's representatives have been active in plots to destroy munition factories and foment labor troubles. Dr. Goricar has turned over much evidence that he gathered concerning the activities of certain consuls.
